Meet Bibi

Before starting my own virtual assistant service business, Buying Time, I spent 24 years in the corporate world working for companies like North American Logistics and UPS Supply Chain. During my time with UPS as National Vendor Manager, I had the highest performing center, while being the youngest and only female manager amongst my peers.

I built a culture that created the largest percentage of promotions from my direct hires. And I also worked with all the centers to create over $2.7 million in annual payroll savings from efficiency and productivity analysis, and single-handedly led implementation of those improvements across all the US locations.

My experiences in the corporate arena, as well as my Keap (previously named Infusionsoft) and Six Sigma certifications, translate directly to helping entrepreneurs and small business owners understand the value of time management and setting up systems to do the work for them.

In addition to helping businesses with expert implementation and virtual administration jobs, I'm also a regular speaker and workshop facilitator. Through fun, informative sessions, I help business owners learn how to let go of all the day-to-day tasks that either don't suit them or waste their time. They are suddenly free to work "on" their businesses, not "in" their businesses. Once they begin working this way, many experience significant growth in revenues as well as improved company morale.

Our Services

We Set You Up For Success

Over the past several years, we've watched our clients' businesses go through enormous change and growth. We prepare you for what's ahead by setting up systems and automation that will carry you through the times when you're too busy helping people to think about the inner-workings of your business.

You Might Be Thinking, "Yeah, but...wouldn't it just be easier and faster to do it all myself? It will take too much time to teach your team how to manage my business tasks." It's easy to think that. But we've found that the best time to set up systems and create your own company training manual is when you're still in the early stages of growth. Once your business really takes off, it's much harder to find the time to train people to do all the tasks that keep your business running. We document all our work in an operations manual for you, so that when and if you start hiring full-time employees, you don't have to explain anything. It's already written out for you.

Can I really afford it?

The whole idea is to help your business grow. That's why we offer a wide variety of services, at fees that work with your budget. We even offer small packages to get you started with 2 hours a month. You'd be surprised what we can do in just 2 hours—like all your social media posting and sending out a monthly newsletter. Would you like to take those tasks off your plate forever?

Social Media

For $400 to start and $250 a month going forward, you'll receive:

- 30-minute intake call with your Social Media Assistant to review goals, desired types of posts, scheduling, platforms, and more
- A personalized, collaborative Social Media Content Plan based on your intake that you and your Social Media Assistant will work off of for streamlined communication
- Up to 5 social media graphic templates (includes up to 3 revisions; additional revisions available at an extra charge)
- A monthly planning call to discuss the next month's promotional items, themes, and goals
- You curate the content; we'll develop the posts for up to 3 graphic posts per week on no more than two social media accounts
- Scheduling of posts via your desired social media scheduler
- Monthly metrics reports

Additional Social Media Accounts

- If you have more than two social media accounts, you can add up to two more accounts at $75/month per account.
